Member Jailed in Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission said today one of its staff members was arrested in Greenwood, Miss., Thursday night for refusing to use segregated facilities at a bus station.

The commission said Chester F. Relyea, its assistant general counsel, was released after being held for about an hour.

Relyea was in Greenwood investigating complaints of voter intimidation, shootings and discrimination in the surplus food program there, the commission said.

Greenwood has been the scene of three recent shootings, the spokesman added.

Kennedy to Meet Latin Presidents

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flies south today for a Florida weekend sojourn before going to Costa Rica on Monday for talks with six Latin-American presidents.

Kennedy and a group of key aides scheduled a midday departure for Palm Beach from Near-By Andrews Air Force Base.

In Palm Beach, the President will stay at a borrowed ocean-front villa until early Monday morning, when he flies to San Jose, Costa Rica.

Before returning to Washington late Wednesday night, Kennedy will hold a series of collective and individual meetings with the presidents of Panama and five Central American republics, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

A principal aim of the American participants in the San Jose meetings will be to enlist Latin-American support or new curbs aimed at cutting off the exportation of subversion from Communist-controlled Cuba. The Latin Americans, for their part, are expected to seek further U.S. aid for programs embraced by the 'Alliance for Progress.'

Mrs. Kennedy and her two children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2, will spend the weekend at Camp David the Navy-operated presidential retreat near Thurmont, Md.

U.S. Singer Shot to Death in Rome

By JAMES M. LONG
ROME (AP)—American lyric soprano Frances McCann, 42, was found shot to death today just inside the door of her room in a Rome hotel.

Police said she was shot by Ernest Boxmann, 54, a resident of the hotel, the Bernini-Bristol on midtown Bernini Square.

They said Boxmann then fired a bullet into his own head.

He was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Hotel officials said Miss McCann and Boxmann had taken fourth floor rooms three days ago.

Not having seen Miss McCann leave her room this morning, employees rang her bell several times. Receiving no answer, they opened the door with a pass key.

Police said they found her body on the floor, just inside the door. She had been shot through the throat.

Police said Boxmann was a naturalized U.S. citizen of German birth and that he was the singer's impresario. They said they had no clue as to a motive.

Miss McCann and Boxmann had come to Italy from Berlin.

The AFL-CIO American Guild of Musical Artists in New York said Miss McCann had joined that organization in September of 1953 and that her home address was Altadena, Calif.

A Pregnant Lady Raped in Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A young pregnant woman was dragged off a Houston street into a car early today, beaten and raped; then dumped in a field on the city's West Side, police said.

She is Gail Eishen, 20, a secretary for the Liquor Control Board. She is expecting her first child in two months.

Police Lt. L. D. Morrison quoted a doctor who examined Mrs. Eishen at a hospital as saying, "It is my opinion at this time that the girl has been raped."

Detective Don Harmon said Ronald Clifford Rust, 19, and Walter Lee Siro, 22, were arrested for questioning. No charges have been filed against them.

Harmon said two men were picked up in a red convertible described by Mrs. Eishen's husband as the assailants' car.

Officers said Mrs. Eishen crawled to a nearby house and asked the occupants to call police.

Her husband, Mike Eishen, 23, a service station attendant, said he and his wife were about two blocks from his home when two men drove up. One grabbed Mrs. Eishen, dragged her into the car, then drove off, Eishen said.

Eishen told police they were walking home because their car was out of gas. They live just south of the downtown area.

His wife appeared to be faking, Eishen said, and he went ahead to get their second car. Eishen said he was about 30 feet from his wife when the car drove up.

"I chased the car on foot, but couldn't catch up," he said.

U.S. Formally Rejects Reds in Ship Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States formally rejected today soviet charges that U.S. warships fired on a Soviet trawler some 70 miles east of Norfolk, Va., last Friday.

The State Department made public a note, delivered Thursday night to the Soviet Embassy, saying that after a thorough investigation it was determined that no U.S. naval vessel in the general area engaged in any firing when any surface vessel or aircraft could be endangered.

It said no cruisers were among the U.S. naval vessels in the area as had been charged by the Soviet Union.

The note acknowledged that six U.S. destroyers were engaged in gunnery exercises within an established and recognized area used for many years for gunnery and other exercises by ships of the U.S. Navy.

It said a destroyer nearest the location of the alleged incident within the indicated time period conducted antiaircraft firing practice against a target towed by an airplane, firing in easterly and westerly directions with ammunition having a maximum range of seven miles. The destroyer was 10 miles southwest of the location of the alleged incident, the U.S. note said.

The Soviet complaint had alleged that some dummy shells fell as close as 190 feet from the Soviet vessel and endangered it.

"Before and during the firing practice, clearance of the range was established in accordance with normal safety procedures and no other surface vessels were within 12 miles of the destroyer at the time of the firing."

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House antitrust investigators, irked by what they regard as a challenge from the newspaper industry to their authority, have called an industry spokesman back for more questioning today.

Stanford Smith, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, raised the hackles of members of the antitrust subcommittee Thursday by seeking to impose limits on the subcommittee's investigation of the concentration of ownership in news media.

Speaking for an organization representing the nation's major publishers and backed by a 189-page legal brief, Smith told the subcommittee it would be clearly unconstitutional for congress to enact any special legislation aimed at curbing newspaper mergers.

"The First Amendment guarantees the press an immunity from governmental interference not given to any other profit-making private enterprise," said Smith, provoking Rep. George Meader, R. Mich., to inquire:

"Would it be fair to say the ANPA is 'taking the first'?"

Smith and the ANPA legal counsel, Arthur B. Hanson, argued that although the press is subject to general antitrust laws in its business practices, the constitutional guarantees of a free press preclude any special laws aimed at diffusing newspaper ownership.

The calling back of Smith today also will hold up the subcommittee's investigation of the Los Angeles newspaper mergers that touched off the current inquiry.

Allentown Plant Blast Fatal to 3

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — One building in the huge complex of Trojan Powder Co. plants blew apart today, killing three men and injuring eight other employees, none seriously.

The dead are Carl Bleider, Clair Metzger and Harold Henry.

A company spokesman said: "A fire of unknown origin broke out in the manufacturing area of the Seiple plant shortly before 9 a.m. The cause of it cannot be determined until a full investigation has been made."

The Seiple plant turned out blasting powder for cement mills. The Seiple plant, one of perhaps 100 buildings making up the Trojan establishment over a wide area about five miles north of here, is half a mile or so from the company's main plant. All the buildings are situated a considerable distance from one another, in a rural area, in the interests of safety.

Showers Wet Most of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered showers and thunderstorms will be pushed into Arkansas Saturday as a low pressure area over the southern Rockies moves eastward.

A warming trend which started today is expected to continue through Sunday with high temperatures ranging in the 50s and 60s.

Low temperatures tonight were expected to range from the mid 40s to mid 50s.

By Sunday a cold front accompanying the low in the southern Rockies will bring clearing skies and cooler temperatures, the Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures in the state Thursday night and early Friday ranged in the low 30s and 40s. Harrison registered an overnight low of 33. The Memphis-West Memphis area had 34. Highest overnight low was a 43 at Texarkana and El Dorado.

What It Didn't Do Best Part of Legislature

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 64th Arkansas General Assembly's mark in history may be predicated more on what it did not do rather than what it did.

It did not:

1. Enact any new general taxes.
2. Reach an agreement on voter registration.
3. Come to grips with the problem of open gambling.
4. Decide whether Winthrop Rockefeller should be praised as a leader in industrial development or ostracized as a Republican Party champion.
5. Divert any more state revenues to cities and counties.

It did:

1. Increase truck weight limits, ending a six-year fight.
2. Give Gov. Orval E. Faubus almost everything he asked for, as have the last three legislatures.
3. Refer city-county tax and state official salary increase amendments to the next general election ballot just as the 1959 and 1961 general assemblies did.

The 1963 Legislature will be noted for lack of controversy. The only real arguments came over side issues such as Ashley County Rep. N. B. Murphy's anti-gambling bill and the Rockefeller question.

The truck weight problem, topic of bitter argument in 1959 and target of a filibuster in 1961, was speedily solved this year after the administration put its weight behind a weight-license increase package.

Compulsory insurance investment, which could have been a big issue, never came to a lengthy argument on the floor. The administration tried several bills, came up with a compromise measure and settled for a questionable victory instead of involving itself in a dog-eat-dog fight that could have brought out an untainted bill.

The courts now will have to decide whether this legislature enacted an insurance investment law at all.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen acted out in 1963 one of the largest roles he has played in 24 years in the House.

Van Dalsen carried the fight against the gambling bill, killing it by amendment, and he was the central figure in the Rockefeller fight, heading off adoption of a resolution praising Rockefeller by introducing a bill to oust him from the AIOC.

This session missed, however, the long hard fights that centered around truck weights and a bill to let Faubus pack the Little Rock school board in 1959 and truck weights, teacher retirement and a soft drink tax bill in 1961.

Teacher retirement was settled by a pre-session compromise and a bill designed to place everyone was enacted without a dissenting vote in the first two weeks.

A soft drink tax bill was introduced by Yell County Rep. Lloyd George, but he pulled it down quickly when he discovered just how strong anti-tax sentiment in the House was.

The full weight of the anti-tax feeling was brought to bear on an administration measure to place a $1 per capita tax on each Arkansas 21 or older. It got just 10 votes in the House.

LEMONS AND ROSES
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I was deeply disturbed over your advice to the strip teaser who had worked in a Chicago night club. How could you tell her to boast, play up the truth and be proud of a past that is to her everlasting shame?

I don't feel jealous of her — as you said other women might — but sure am sorry that her husband didn't show more respect for her wish to remain silent and protect their children who could so easily be hurt by this boasting.

She should not try to deny her past because she cannot but her shame should not be openly discussed. — Concerned Reader

Dear Concerned: Your reaction is like those of the missionaries who clad beautiful Hawaiian girls in shapeless Mother Hubbards.

Dear Helen: Some letters you get from wives make me sick! Why do they marry if they don't know marriage is a two-way street?

You can't expect to take and not give, and get away with it in this world. So their husbands cheat and vice versa! They forever complain about being left at home with the children. It's self and not family they are thinking of.

I had my share of ups and downs, being only 17 when I married 15 years ago. My husband and I have our disagreements but we love each other and our three children. That love takes us over the hurdles. I was taught that marriage was sacred. Just because the going gets rough is no reason for quitting.

The trouble is too few husbands and wives tell the truth. If the wives had the courage to let their husbands present their side of the story too, we wouldn't waste any sympathy on these cry-baby women. — Truthfully yours, E. B. of Pennsylvania

Dear E. B.: You're right. Few wives have the moral courage to ask their husbands to give me to 58. Highs Saturday 62 to 72.

ARKANSAS—Partly cloudy to cloudy and warmer through Saturday; widely scattered thundershowers today and tonight mostly south today; scattered showers and thundershowers Saturday probably beginning southwest tonight; high today 58-68; low tonight 45-55.

OKLAHOMA — Mostly cloudy through Saturday; scattered rain.

LOUISIANA: Considerable cloudiness through Saturday. Warmer Saturday with widely scattered thundershowers west and north portions. Low 55 to 62 tonight. High 70s Saturday.

EASTERN AND SOUTHERN MISSOURI—Partly cloudy southwest, generally fair elsewhere today; increasing cloudiness tonight mostly cloudy Saturday; scattered showers or thundershowers; warmer today and tonight; continued mild Saturday; high today 70 southwest, 60s elsewhere; low tonight 50s southwest and extreme south, 40s elsewhere.

McCaskill's Thanks

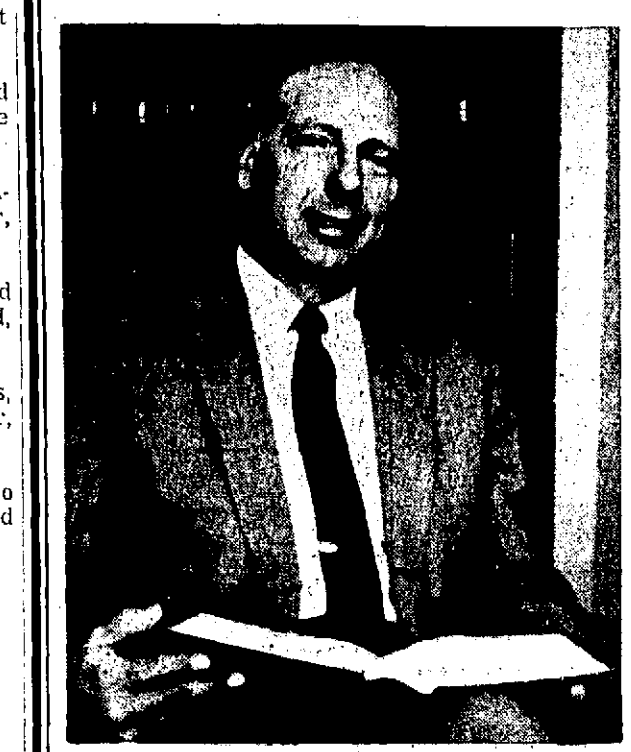

Editor The Star: On behalf of all the members of the McCaskill RCI and myself, I want to express our appreciation for the splendid publicity in your Hope Star in connection with the "Rural Visitation Day" held in the northern part of Hempstead County on March 6.

The nice write-ups and pictures, we feel, helped to make the tour the great success that it was. Our further thanks go to you and Mr. Pod Rogers for taking the time to join the Chamber of Commerce tour. We feel this worthy project helped to promote better understanding and good, will between the people of Hope and the rural communities visited that day.

The cooperation received from the Hope Star in the years past, and now recently is acknowledged with warm thanks from all of us.

Mrs. Leon Prescott
McCaskill RCI Chairman
March 11, 1963
McCaskill, Ark.

We Want You To Meet . . .

Albert Graves

Mr. Graves was one of the organizers of our Association and has been our Attorney and a member of the Board of Directors since that time. He serves our community and his Church in many ways and is recognized as one of Hempstead County's leading citizens. His fellow lawyers have recognized his ability by selecting him as a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, a national organization whose membership is composed of less than one per cent of all the lawyers in the United States. We are indeed proud to have him as our Attorney and on our Board and ask his friends to use the many facilities offered by our Association.

Would Curb Power of McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., said today Congress should consider whether to take away some of the broad powers now vested in Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Hebert, members of the House Armed Services Committee, spoke out as the House prepared to resume debate on a $15.8-billion military buying bill. The committee recommended the measure be pegged at that level to include $363.7 million earmarked for stepped-up development of the RS70 reconnaissance strike plane. McNamara is against expansion of the development program, which now calls for construction of three planes. The committee majority wants the Air Force to build five of them to see whether the reconnaissance strike craft can be developed into a warplane for the nation's arsenal.

Hebert said McNamara wants to downgrade manned bombers, hold down RS70 development and eliminate other programs but hasn't come up with anything to replace them.

McNamara was sharply questioned about his RS70 decision during a closed hearing of the committee several weeks ago. In testimony released Tuesday he replied that he is trying to establish a basic Pentagon policy structure, after which he can encourage subordinates to make more decisions.

Adenauer Will Quit Politics

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer will quit politics completely when he retires as chancellor next fall, a ranking member of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party says.

Josef Hermann Dufhues, ranking party executive after Adenauer, said Thursday the chancellor, 87, will give up the party chairmanship he has held for 13 years and will not take any post in the new government. Dufhues had just come from a meeting of party leaders with Adenauer.

Spurns Offer in Athletics to Take Vows

By WILLIAM SHAFFER

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP)—He is worth a million bucks to Loyola Academy but he neither wants nor expects to collect.

He is James H. Bur, star fullback from a Cincinnati high school in 1951 who had offers from Army, Navy, Stanford, Kentucky, Purdue and Xavier.

But he spurned the gridiron and a shot at athletic stardom for poverty, celibacy and unquestioning obedience. He took Jesuit vows as a lay brother.

Brother Bur and a part-time helper built and recently were completing the interiors of more than a dozen classrooms, a theater and numerous other features at Loyola Academy in Chicago's north suburban Wilmette. Loyola is the nation's largest high school operated by the Society of Jesus, whose members are known popularly as the Jesuits.

In four years Brother Bur has built:

A carpenter shop, athletic locker rooms, eight chapels, 14 living rooms for private and lay brothers, a pair of school treasurer's offices, lavatory facilities, several cement stairways, a library, seven classrooms, a bookstore, seven physics rooms, a teachers' lounge and an entire second and third floor addition to one wing.

As a lay brother he contributes his time and talent. He's had occasional brushes with union bosses.

"But when they found I was a lay brother and couldn't disrupt their systems, they agreed to let me work on," Brother Bur said. "About how much is Loyola's saving in four years?"

"Well, I've never totaled it up," Brother Bur replied. "But, let's see, I guess if contractors were hired to do that work it would run—oh—I guess about $1 million."

Each of Brother Bur's projects reflects the latest construction materials and the sure hand of a skilled tradesman.

"I worked on construction gangs when I was at Purcell High School in Cincinnati," Brother Bur said. "And I had construction training after I took my vows and entered the Milford Novitiate northeast of Cincinnati."

He entered the novitiate in 1952. He was assigned to the Wilmette school in 1958.

shouldn't turn over all the tough problems to the President. I turn over enough already."

In response to a question about Republican predictions they will cut the defense budget by $3 billion, McNamara said that since Republican Arents has joined in adding $1.1 billion to the budget "now they've got to cut $4 billion."

"The man who made that attack yesterday is the ranking minority member of the committee that added $1.1 billion to the defense budget. I don't think it is right when we have a man to support an irresponsible action in adding over a billion dollars to the budget that is not needed and then criticize the responsible official who took out the billion."

McNamara said it is "true in a sense" that he has acted as a dictator.

"The budget submitted by the chiefs of staff and service secretaries totaled $67 billion," he said. "I took $14 billion out of that."

This comment drew loud applause from the audience of businessmen.

McNamara continued, "If I don't do it who's going to?"

Chapter XIII

David held out the tubes. "The first has to be destroyed. Then there's one for you, and one for me."

"What are you going to do with yours?"

"Microscopic. You do the butyric acid and colloidal gold — give it the works."

Susan Page laughed. "You men always keep the best jobs for yourself."

"That's the thanks get for taking tedious work off your hands! You send in the report if you want to. I haven't anything else to do now anyway."

"You'd better hide yourself, then. The school is coming over for a sight-seeing tour, and all the young ladies will be spreading through the place. I've heard tell you don't like young ladies."

David grinned. "Don't believe everything you hear, Doctor."

The staining room was small and had one window. This was the room in which he and Nancy had faced each other, and he summoned forth her image in the blue cape, her eyes flashing, her lips sweet for all her anger. As he mixed the fluid with alcohol, transferred it to slender tubes and balanced them in the centrifuge, his heart was heavy with foreboding, and sick with a yearning for Nancy.

Somewhere in the laboratory, rubber heels were padding on cement floors. There was movement and murmur, the sound of Dr. Page's voice explaining to the young women:

"This is a steam sterilizer — steam under pressure. We call it an autoclave." Her voice went on. "— dry sterilizer — incubator — observe heat control — glass — Einhorn tube — petrie dish . . ."

The voices and the rubber heels came closer, traveling from cubicle to cubicle, but David sat combing the slides again and again, assuring and reassuring himself with a kind of fascination.

"And the most striking object in this room, girls, is a doctor, usually called Dr. Anders. Not a necessary bit of equipment in a clinical laboratory . . ."

David rose swiftly. He had heard his name, but had not quite taken in Dr. Page's rallery. He looked down into a dozen laughing faces. "I almost wrote down what you said about Dr. Anders," said one girl. The voice was unmistakable. It was Nancy's.

His eyes found her in the center of the group, well hidden

Body of Man Found in River

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The body of a Stuttgart man identified by authorities as Garvell Watson Voellinger, 23, was found floating in the L'Angeuille River Thursday, about 10 miles northwest of here.

St. Francis County Coroner Walter Stevens said the man had been missing since Dec. 23 last year. An autopsy indicated the victim had suffered a fractured skull, broken left forearm and apparently three bullet wounds, Stevens said. The bullets were not found.

The body was found by fishermen and was recovered by sheriff's deputies.

Voellinger was reported missing by his mother, Mrs. Charles Toiland of DeWitt.

Voellinger was still wearing a watch and ring and was well dressed when the body was found. His billfold contained only one dollar.

Texas Meets Cincinnati in Tournament

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's Bearcats and Duke's Blue Devils, who finished first and second in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season, start on the road tonight that they hope will lead to a battle between them for the national collegiate championship.

The Bearcats, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference and aiming for an unprecedented third straight national title, open their NCAA tourney play against Texas, champions of the Southwest Conference. The Blue Devils, kings of the Atlantic Coast Conference, an independent power ranked ninth nationally.

The two games highlight a full slate of eight second round games that sees 16 teams in action at four regional sites tonight.

This is the line-up; times are Eastern Standard:

Eastern Regionals, College Park, Md.: Duke, 24-2, vs. NYU, 18-3; West Virginia, 22-7, St. Joseph's, Pa., 22-4.

Midwest Regionals, East Lansing, Mich.: Illinois, 19-5, vs. Bowling Green, 19-6; Chicago Loyola, 25-2, vs. Mississippi State, 21-5.

Midwest Regionals, Lawrence, Kan.: Cincinnati, 23-1, vs. Texas, 19-6; Colorado, 18-6, vs. Oklahoma City, 19-8.

Far West Regionals, Provo, Utah: Oregon State, 20-7, vs. San Francisco, 17-8; Arizona State, 25-2, vs. UCLA, 20-7.

Tonight's regional winners play in the quarter-finals Saturday night with the four survivors earning trips to Louisville for the semi-finals and final next week, March 22-23.

While the big schools are at it, Wittenberg and South Dakota State battle tonight at Evansville, Ind. for the NCAA small college championship.

Since most everyone regards Cincinnati as a shootin' over the Longhorns, the Duke-NYU tussle shapes up as perhaps the best of the second round. This one pits Duke's All-America Art Heyman and Player of the Year against NYU's All-America Barry Kramer and many think Duke's 18-game winning streak may go by the boards.

Mud, Misery Greet Flood Victims

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mud, muck and misery greeted thousands of families returning to their homes today in portions of five southern states hit hardest by rampaging rivers and streams.

Other thousands were homeless still, but the torrential rains were over and the flood waters were receding in most sections.

Property damage mounted to many millions of dollars, and massive cleanup operations added to the cost. Thick mud coated homes, businesses and roads in some areas. Occasional mudslides blocked streets.

Parts of southeastern Kentucky and southwestern West Virginia were declared disaster areas by President Kennedy.

Fifteen deaths were attributed to the floods and five persons were missing. Six died in West Virginia, four in Tennessee, two in Kentucky, two in Virginia and one in Alabama.

Volunteers built an emergency wall of dirt to augment a flood wall at Prestonburg, Ky., and the barrier turned back the Big Sandy River with just four inches to spare.

At Paintsville, down river from Prestonburg, water was reported over the parking meters on the main street. About 1,000 of the 2,400 persons in the town were evacuated, but a Civil Defense spokesman described the situation as well in hand.

Ten passengers and a driver were rescued from a Greyhound bus trapped for more than eight hours in flood waters on a highway 35 miles west of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Amphibious vehicles were used to remove the passengers and bus driver Forrest F. Darnell of Memphis, Tenn. He said he was forced to stop the vehicle in shallow water sweeping across highway 64 when a car stalled in front of him shortly after midnight Wednesday.

The water rose quickly to about four feet and poured two feet deep into the bus, he said.

"The water was so swift it picked up the front of the bus and set it on the shoulder of the road," he said. "The bus rocked all night."

Elsewhere, the Tennessee River approached flood level but was expected to be held in control by Tennessee Valley Authority dams and spillways. Other rivers were receding.

In West Virginia the Guyandotte and Tug rivers were back within their banks in the southern portion

Ejection Capsule Fails to Work
EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force sought reasons today for the spectacular destruction of a new ejection capsule designed to save pilots of future aerospace planes.

The capsule, carrying a man-sized dummy, pulled away from a rocket sled during a 1,000-mile per hour test run Thursday and shattered in a spill.

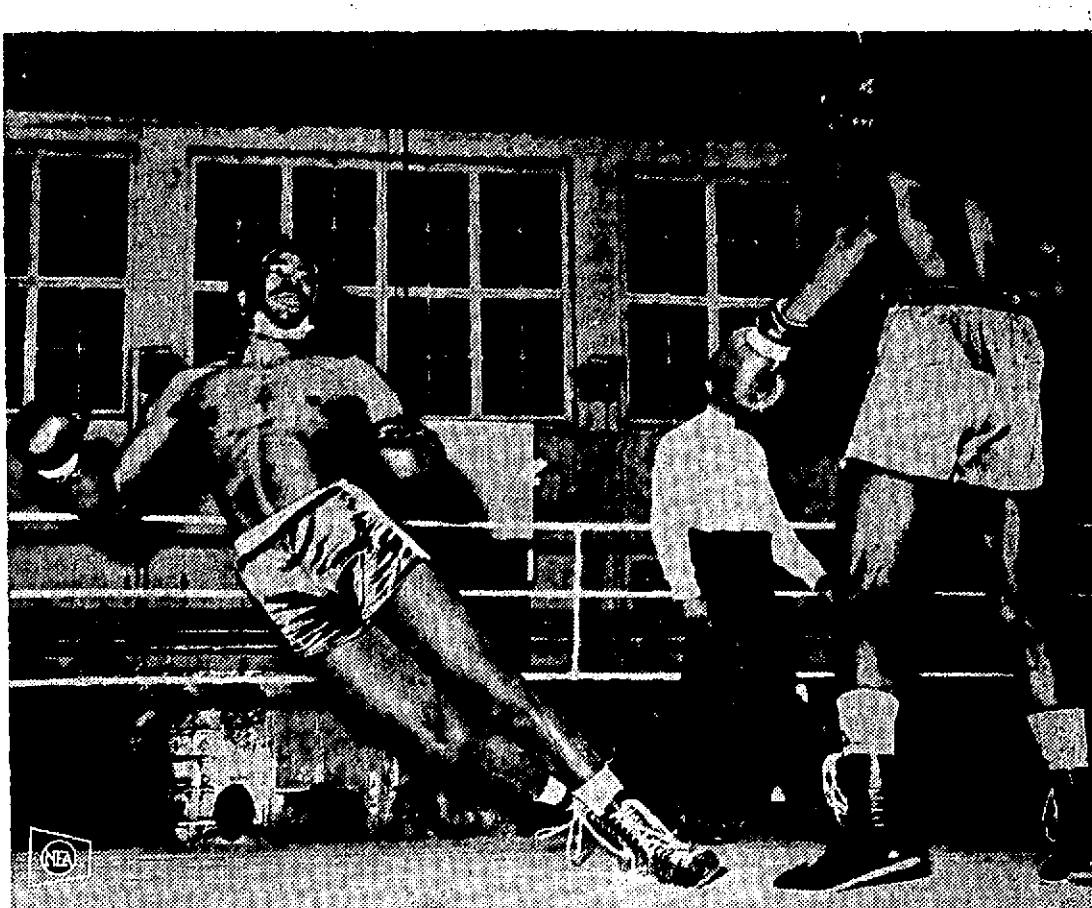

Flood waters also were going down in southwestern Virginia where the Red Cross was feeding and sheltering about 1,000 families.

of the prescribed parole period. In a statement, the board said the discharge could not be effective until Leopold receives it in Puerto Rico sometime next week.

"The Leopold case is a routine matter. The authorities in Puerto Rico have recommended a final discharge," the board said in a statement.

In Illinois it is customary to end parole supervision of life-terms with good parole records after five years.

Leopold, 58, was placed on parole March 3, 1958 after serving 33 1/2 years of a sentence of life plus 99 years for the slaying of Bobby Franks, 14, in Chicago 39 years ago. His sentence was reduced in recognition of his work with malaria research during World War II.

The slaying of Franks by Leopold and a companion, Richard Loeb, attracted nationwide attention. The attorney for their defense was the late Clarence Darrow.

Loeb was killed in a prison fight in 1936.

Koufax Gives Only 3 Hits in Victory

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

A winter's rest apparently has worked the Midas touch on the index finger that tarnished Sandy Koufax' golden arm.

The 27-year-old fireballing left-hander with the amazing strikeout record had everyone wondering what all the concern was about as he pitched and five innings and allowed only three hits and an unearned run in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees Thursday.

Koufax' performance in the exhibition game at the Yankees' Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home base, marked the first time any Dodger pitcher had attempted to go five innings. It was Koufax' second spring workout. He allowed a run and two hits in a previous three-inning stint.

The "circulatory ailment" that numbered Koufax' finger last year generally is considered the major reason the Dodgers lost the pennant. Before he was sidelined on July 17, Koufax had won 14 games pitched a no-hitter against the New York Mets and struck out 18 batters against the Chicago Cubs.

The Baltimore Orioles remained the lone unbeaten team with a 15-hit attack that subdued Minnesota 11-7 at Miami. It was the Orioles' fifth victory.

The Chicago White Sox and Kansas City A's won their fifth in six games. The Sox blasted Pittsburgh 16-5 at Fort Myers with a three-homer attack and the A's belted Philadelphia 5-1 at Clearwater, behind Ted Bowfield's pitching and hitting.

Cleveland whipped San Francisco 7-3 at Phoenix, Ariz., Washington beat the New York Mets 4-2 at St. Petersburg, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 3-2 at Tampa, the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Milwaukee nipped Detroit 4-3 at West Palm Beach and Houston outlasted Boston 12-11 in 11 innings at Apache Junction, Ariz.

PARIS (AP)—A 24-hour strike paralyzed France's nationalized

of the prescribed parole period. In a statement, the board said the discharge could not be effective until Leopold receives it in Puerto Rico sometime next week.

"The Leopold case is a routine matter. The authorities in Puerto Rico have recommended a final discharge," the board said in a statement.

In Illinois it is customary to end parole supervision of life-terms with good parole records after five years.

Leopold went directly to Puerto Rico upon his release from prison and became a $10-a-week orderly in the Church of the Brethren Hospital at Catman. He subsequently earned a masters degree in social medicine at the University of Puerto Rico and went to work for the Puerto Rican Health Department. He married Trudi Garcia de Quevedo last year in San Juan.
